

Place Value

Numbers are written using the following ten digits.

0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---	---

The number 456 has 3 digits, each in a different place. Each place has a name that tells its value.

Hundreds	Tens	Ones
4	5	6

The digit 6 is in the ones place. This means the digit has a value of 6 ones.

The digit 5 is in the tens place. This means the digit has a value of 5 tens.

The digit 4 is in the hundreds place. It has a value of 4 hundreds.